TRUE  NORTH

Founded in 2012 by social entrepreneur Robert Workman, Barebones was born from a desire to do good. Before we were a company, Robert developed Barebones products to support his Tifie (Teaching Individuals and Families Independence through Enterprise) Humanitarian efforts and passion for helping marginalized people experience the hope that comes from being able to meet their own basic needs.

That same passion extends into everything we make at Barebones. We thoughtfully design each item to improve the quality of life for all mankind, whether it's supporting education and self sufficiency in Bwe, South Africa, or outdoor enthusiasts connecting with nature. That's our True North.

Wherever your own personal journey may lead you, we hope Barebones will help you along the way to finding your True North.

"We leverage our product, profits, people, resources and experience to do good in meaningful, impactful ways. It's not our 'giveback,' it's our purpose. It's why we were founded. It's how we are made."

Founder and Co-Chairman of Barebones

A woman with long brown hair, wearing a dark denim jacket over a black and white striped shirt, is smiling and looking down at a red and black plaid blanket she is holding. She is standing on a gravel path next to a body of water, with large evergreen trees in the background. A white folding chair and a blue cooler are visible in the foreground. The scene is bathed in warm, golden light, suggesting late afternoon or early morning. A quote is overlaid on the lower left of the image.

“STUDY NATURE,
LOVE NATURE,
STAY CLOSE TO NATURE.
IT WILL NEVER FAIL YOU.”
